Pro/Post: The Industry-Best Post Processor Solution

Stop Editing at the Machine! 100% Perfect Output Guaranteed. Forever.

Pro/Post is a unique program developed specifically for Prospector to address your post processor requirements perfectly and best of all, permanently.

- ✓ Custom Software - Every post processor is developed to your exact shop standards and requirements. You don't have to settle for anything less than perfect output. This means no editing will ever be necessary at the control. The output is always 100% correct and ready to run on the machine.
- ✓ Unlimited Warranty - Every post processor is covered with an unlimited warranty provided your Prospector software is covered by a software support agreement. If you upgrade your machine or control and need changes, there is no fee for the needed software changes. If you want to start to take advantage of canned cycles or high speed machining features, the changes needed to your post are free. If an operating system change requires an update to your post, the changes are free. No matter what happens all software changes for any post processor delivered under this program are absolutely free.
- ✓ Speedy Delivery - In most cases, your post processor is delivered in just a few business days. Modifications you might need to fine-tune the output are usually completed the same day.
- ✓ Affordable - Custom post processors can typically cost thousands of dollars each from other CAM companies. That is well out of the reach of many shops. Pro/Post Service starts at just $495 for a typical 3-axis machine. We view post processors as important for ensuring customer satisfaction with our Prospector software not as a profit-center or a means to generate incremental revenue. That is why we provide this program to our customers at the same price it costs us to develop and support each post processor.
- ✓ Competent - Our vast experience in developing post processors means that we have the expertise to develop the software you need to run your machine at its full potential. From Hedenhaim conversational output to highly customized posts for gun drilling applications, we've helped our customers reach new levels of productivity.
